Introduction to the Liturgy of the Day

Taken from "Pastoral Patterns" by GIA Publications, Inc.

As we gather to celebrate the Eucharist, let us give God thanks for second chances. All of us fail sometimes, maybe quite often. But this does not mean that we are condemned forever, unable to overcome our faults and past sins. We are constantly invited to repent, seek forgiveness, and change our behavior. Saint Paul, who knew a thing or two about doing all this, calls upon us to reject selfishness and instead look out for the interests of others. Let us pray today for a change of heart that will lead us to more closely follow the road to God's kingdom.

Introduction to the Liturgy of the Word

Taken from "Pastoral Patterns" by GIA Publications, Inc.

In today's first reading, Ezekiel vividly contrasts the eventual fates of a virtuous person who turns belatedly to sin and a wicked person who turns away from sin to do what is right and just. In the same vein, Jesus presents two sons, one of whom promises obedience, but fails to follow through, while the other responds defiantly, but then has a change of heart. As we listen to God's word, let us ask ourselves where we often fall and how we can do better.

To understand Ezekiel's assertions in the first reading, it helps to see God as the source of light and life. When we act virtuously, we are turned toward the source of light and life, enjoying the ability to see and to thrive. But when we commit sin, we turn away from God, stepping at once into darkness. We cannot use all the good things we did in the past to offset our sin any more than the person plunged into darkness can use their time living in the light to light up the darkness. However, we can do what the second person in Ezekiel's example did, turn away from darkness and back to righteousness and justice, receiving the mercy God always stands ready to offer.

Question of the Week

Taken from "Pastoral Patterns" by GIA Publications, Inc.

To what have I said no recently that I regret now? How can I turn around and make up for that?

REQUESTING HOSPITAL & NURSING HOME CLERGY VISITS: If your loved one is admitted to a hospital, nursing home, or care facility, please remember to contact the parish office to request a clergy visit. By informing the parish, you help ensure that a member of the clergy can visit, offer prayer, provide pastoral support, and administer the sacraments if desired. Please call or email the parish office with the name of the person, the facility where they are staying, and any room information if available. Thank you for helping us care for members of our parish community during times of illness and recovery.
